Tomb of Itmad-ud-Daula was built by Noorjahan (Nur Jahan) at Agra between 1622-1628 after the death of his father. This elegant monument is located on the bank of river Yamuna. The main mausoleum is built with white marble. Itmad-ud-Daula has a special place in the chronicles of both history as well as architecture. The monument is priceless because this is the first tomb in India that is entirely made up of marble. In spite of marble and inlay work, it was for the first time that a new style of ornamentation, Pietradura, was used.
