

32. Whose army was defeated by the army of Kakatiya rulers in 1303 at Warangal?

- (a) of Iltutmish
- (b) of Balban
- (c) of Alauddin Khalji
- (d) of Muhammad Tughluq

U.P.P.C.S. (Pre) 2017

Ans. (c)

In 1303 A.D., the first attempt by Alauddin to conquer Warangal ended in a disaster as the army of the Kakatiya dynasty defeated him. The Kakatiya king, Prataprudrdev II, raised a well-equipped army and Alauddin's army which was led by Fakhruddin Juna and Malik Chhajju was defeated by the Kakatiya army.

Tughluq Dynasty

*Among the generals of Alauddin, Ghiyasuddin Tughluq or Ghazi Malik became the first ruler of the Tughluq dynasty. *He established the Tughluq dynasty. *His mother was a Hindu Jat woman and his father was a Qaraunah Turk who was a slave of Balban. *Ghiyasuddin Tughluq was the chief of several important campaigns during Alauddin Khalji's reign and he was appointed as the governor of Dipalpur. *He fought against Mongols, drove them out of India 29 times so, he became famous as 'Ghazi Malik'. *He took control of Delhi's throne by defeating Khusrau Shah and on 8th September 1320 AD, he became Sultan. *He was also known as Ghazi Beg Tughluq or Ghazi Tughluq. Because of this, his successors were known as 'Tughluq' and his lineage was called Tughluq Dynasty.

*During the time of Ghiyasuddin Tughluq, tax from farmers started to be collected 1/5 to 1/3 of the yield as earlier. In case of famine, land tax was waived. Tax-free jagirs were granted to the Government employees without giving any share in the revenue. *The harsh punishments of the Alauddin's time were abolished, but those who did not pay taxes, the dishonest ones with the government money and the thieves were severely punished.

*Among all the sultans of Delhi Sultanate, Muhammad-Bin Tughluq (1325-1351 A.D.) was the most learned and educated ruler. *He was well versed in many disciplines including astronomy, mathematics, medicine etc. *Muhammad-Bin Tughluq established a new department, Diwan-i-Amir-i-Kohi, for the advancement of agriculture. *The main work of this department was to provide more support to the farmers and bring more land under agricultural work. *A long piece of land measuring about 60 square miles was chosen for it. *One of the most important experiments of Muhammad Tughluq was to move the capital to Daulatabad (Devagiri) from Delhi. *According to Dr. K.A. Nizami, Sultan Qutbuddin Mubarak Khalji named Devagiri as Qutbabad and Muhammad Tughluq named it Daulatabad. Devagiri was also called Quwwat-ul-Islam. *Muhammad-Bin Tughluq had inscribed a sentence on his coins, 'Al Sultan Zilli Allah' (Sultan is the shadow of God), 'God is the supporter of Sultan'. *Golden coins issued by Muhammad-Bin Tughluq were called 'Dinar' by Ibn Batuta. *Barani describes five major policies of Muhammad Tughluq-

- (1) Tax increase in Doab,
- (2) Making Devagiri (Daulatabad) new capital,
- (3) Issuing token currency,
- (4) Invasion on Khurasan and
- (5) Qarachil Expedition.

*Ibn Battuta (1333 - 1342 AD) was an African traveller of Moroccan origin. *He came to India in the reign of Muhammad-Bin Tughluq (1325-51 A.D.). *Muhammad-Bin Tughluq appointed him as the Qazi of Delhi. Later in 1342 AD, he was sent to China as an ambassador of the Sultan. *Ibn Batuta presented the details of his journey in his book Kitab-ul-Rihla. *Details of the postal system were known from Ibn Batuta's travelogue. *Muhammad-Bin Tughluq was the first sultan of Delhi who used to participate in the festival of Hindus, mainly on Holi. *He also appointed non-Turks and Indian Muslims to government posts. Due to this, Barani harshly criticized him and called him gardener, weaver, barber, cook, etc. *Muhammad-Bin Tughluq died on March 20, 1351. On his death, Badayuni wrote, "The king was freed from his people, and they from their king"

*Firuz Shah Tughluq started some welfare programmes for the benefit of common people. *After opening an office (employment office) for the appointment of the individual through investigating the qualifications and merit of each individual and giving appointments to as many people as possible - he tried to solve the problem of unemployment. *Firuz Shah Tughluq used to donate property to the saints and religious people. He had established a department 'Diwan-i-Khairat', which provided financial assistance to the poor Muslims, orphaned women and widows, and arranged marriages for poor Muslim girls. *Firuz Tughluq was the first Indian ruler to arrange Hajj at state expenditure. He also established a Khairati hospital called 'Dar-ul-Shafa' where skilled Haqim were employed.

*Firuz Shah Tughluq was very fond of the slaves. *There were approximately one lakh eighty thousand slaves working under Firuz Tughluq. *A separate department ('Diwan-i-Bandagan') was formed for caring of them. *He established a Public Work Department. *It is said that Firuz built 300 new cities. Fatehabad, Hisar, Firozpur, Jaunpur, Firozabad etc. were prominent towns established by him. According to the Firista, Firuz had constructed 40 mosques, 30 schools, 20 palaces, 100 Inns, 200 towns, 100 hospitals, 5 Makabara, 100 public bathrooms, 10 pillars and 150 bridges. *His chief architect was Malik Ghazi Shahana.

*The plan and proposal of each building were presented before 'Diwan-i-Wajarat' with its expenditure estimate, and only then the required money could be released. *Firuz Tughluq's reign became famous for constructing the largest network of canals in India. *To facilitate irrigation, he constructed five major canals. *He was the first Sultan of Delhi who imposed irrigation tax named 'Haqq-i-Sharb' after getting the permission from the Ulemas. *The farmers who used to use the royal canals for irrigation had to give 1/10 portion of their produce to the government. *Jizya was imposed on Brahmins by Firuz Tughluq. *It is noteworthy that by that time Brahmins were kept free from this tax. *Firuz Shah Tughluq planted 1200 new fruit gardens near Delhi due to his interest in horticulture and rehabilitated thirty old orchards of Alauddin period. He also made measures to improve the quality of fruits in his orchards. *Two Pillars (Stambh) of Ashoka were brought to Delhi from Meerut and Topra (now in Yamuna Nagar district of Haryana) by Firuz Shah Tughluq. *The Topara Pillar (Stambh) was re-established near the palace and the mosque of Firozabad. *The Pillar (Stambh) of Meerut was re-installed near the current Bada Hindu Rao Hospital of Delhi. *Sultan Firuz Tughluq of Delhi had set up a 'Translation Department' with the aim to improve the understanding of each others ideas among the people of both Hindu and Muslim communities. *He got some Sanskrit texts translated into Persian also.

*Nasiruddin Mahmud Shah (1394 - 1412 AD) was the last ruler of the Tughluq dynasty. During his reign, Khwaja Jahan established an independent state of Jaunpur. *Subedar of Punjab province Khizr Khan declared independence and tried to capture Delhi. *Another son of Firuz, Nusrat Shah challenged Nasiruddin. *As a result, Tughluq dynasty was divided into two parts, and both claimants ruled the shrunk kingdom of Delhi simultaneously. *Nasiruddin stayed in Delhi and Nusrat Shah in Firozabad. During the reign of Nasiruddin Mahmud Shah, Timur, the Great Mongol General of Central Asia, invaded India (1398 AD). *This statement was famous with respect to Nasiruddin Mahmud Shah - 'The sultanate of Shahanshah extends from Delhi to Palam'. *Timur's invasion (1398 AD) destroyed both the Delhi Sultanate and the Tughluq dynasty. *With the death of Nasiruddin Mahmud Shah, the Tughluq dynasty ended in 1412 AD. The warlords of Delhi elected Daulat Khan as Sultan of Delhi in 1413 AD. *But he was defeated by Khizr Khan. *He was the Subedar of Lahore appointed by Timur. *In 1414 AD, he took control of Delhi after the invasion of Timur and laid the foundations of a new lineage Sayyid Dynasty.

1. Who amongst the following Generals of Alauddin Khalji, ultimately became the first Sultan of Tughluq dynasty:

- (a) Ghazi Malik (b) Malik Kafur
(c) Zafar Khan (d) Ubigh Khan

U.P.P.C.S. (Pre) 1999

9. Muhammad-Bin-Tughluq had transferred his capital from Delhi to —

(a) Daulatabad (b) Kalinjar
(c) Kanauj (d) Lahore

U.P. P.C.S. (Pre) 2002

Ans. (a)

Muhammad-Bin-Tughluq had shifted his capital from Delhi to Daulatabad (Devgiri). It was one of the most significant experiments of Muhammad-Bin-Tughluq. Various factors have been identified for this experiment. According to Barani, Devgiri probably was at the center of his empire. According to Ibn Battuta, the people of Delhi used to write undeferential letters to Sultan. To punish them he decided to make Devgiri his capital. Muhammad Tughluq was also the first Sultan of Delhi who tried to establish the administrative and cultural unity of northern and southern India. Probably this was also the main reason behind making Devgiri his capital. According to Dr. K.A. Nizami, Sultan Qutbuddin Mubarak Khalji had changed the name of Devgiri to Qutbabad and Muhammad Tughluq to Daulatabad. Devgiri is also known as Quwwat-ul-Islam.

10. The transfer of capital from Delhi to Daulatabad was ordered by :

(a) Sultan Firuz Tughluq
(b) Sultan Ghiyasuddin Tughluq
(c) Sultan Mubarak
(d) Sultan Muhammad-Bin-Tughluq

U.P.P.C.S. (Pre) 2004

Ans. (d)

See the explanation of above question.

11. For the first time the token currency was introduced in India by :

(a) Akbar (b) Alauddin Khalji
(c) Bahlul Lodi (d) Muhammad-Bin-Tughluq

U.P.P.C.S. (Spl) (Mains) 2004

U.P. Lower Sub. (Pre) 2004

Ans. (d)

Muhammad-Bin-Tughluq launched different types of coins during his period and also decided on their reasonable prices. But the circulation of token currency was his specialty. According to Barani, due to lack of silver in treasury and policy of expanding the empire, Muhammad Tughluq had to launch the token currency. The token currency was launched in Iran during the regime of Gaykhatu, though, the experiment was unsuccessful. The token currency was successfully launched during the period of Kublai Khan. Innovative Muhammad-Bin-Tughluq was inspired by them. The modern historian also notes that there was a shortage of silver all over the world, and there was a severe shortage of silver in India too. Due to this reason, he launched token currency.

12. Who among the following was the first Sultan to introduce token currency in India?

(a) Iltutmish (b) Balban
(c) Muhammad-Bin Tughluq
(d) Bahlul Lodi

U.P.P.C.S. (Mains) 2017

Ans. (c)

See the explanation of above question.

13. Assertion (A): Muhammad-Bin-Tughluq issued a new gold coin which was called Dinar by Ibn Battuta.

Reason (R) : Muhammad-Bin-Tughluq wanted to issue token currency in gold coins to promote trade with West Asian and North African countries.

Code :

- (a) Both 'A' and 'R' are individually true and 'R' is the correct explanation of 'A'.
- (b) Both 'A' and 'R' are individually true but 'R' is not the correct explanation of 'A'.
- (c) 'A' is true but 'R' is false.
- (d) 'A' is false but 'R' is true.

I.A.S. (Pre) 2006

Ans. (c)

Muhammad-Bin-Tughluq issued the new gold coins which were called 'Dinar' by Ibn Battuta. He issued the token currency in copper or Bronze coins to promote his military power not for trade with the West Asian and the North African countries in token currency of gold. Thus, Assertion (A) is true, but Reason (R) is false.

14. Consider the following statements-

Assertion (A) : The scheme of the token currency of Muhammad Tughluq proved unsuccessful.

Reason (R) : Muhammad Tughluq did not have the proper control over currency issue.

Choose the correct answer from the codes given below:

- (a) Both (A) and (R) are individually true, and (R) is the correct explanation of (A).
- (b) Both (A) and (R) are individually true, but (R) is not the correct explanation of (A).
- (c) (A) is true, but (R) is false.
- (d) (A) is false, but (R) is true.

U.P.P.C.S. (Pre) 2006

Ans. (a)

Barani describes the five main schemes of Muhammad Tughluq:- (1) Tax increase in Doab, (2) Devgiri (Daultabad) as Capital, (3) Issuing token currency, (4) Attack on Khurasan and (5) Qarachil expedition. The main reason behind the failure of token currency was that the state had no control over the minting of coins. The value of the token currency was equivalent to the silver value currency. As a result, many fraud mints were formed. The Lagan began to be paid by forged coins.

- (a) Balban
- (b) Alauddin Khalji
- (c) Muhammad-Bin-Tughluq
- (d) Firuz Tughluq

45th B.P.S.C. (Pre) 2001

Ans. (d)

Firuz Shah Tughluq was fond of slaves. The number of his slaves reached up to one lakh eighty thousand. He established a separate department (Diwan-i-Bandgan) to take care of them. He kept his full attention on their education. Each slave was paid 10 to 100 Tankas and sometimes, they also got estates. This hobby of Firuz proved detrimental to the state.

27. With reference to medieval Indian rulers, which one of the following statements is correct?

- (a) Alauddin Khalji first set up a separate Ariz's department
- (b) Balban introduced the branding system of horses in his military

- (c) Muhammad-Bin-Tughluq was succeeded by his uncle in the military
(d) Firuz Tughluq set up a separate department for slaves

I.A.S. (Pre) 2002

Ans. (d)

(i) Balban established an army department 'Diwan-i-Arz' to look after a large standing army with a view to potential Mongol threats. He made Imad-ul-Mulk his commander who was very honest and hardworking. Balban freed him from financial control of Wazir to ensure his financial autonomy. The credit of good arrangement of Balban's army goes to Imad-ul-Mulk. (ii) The branding system of horses was introduced by Alauddin, not by Balban. (iii) Firuz Tughluq, the cousin of Muhammad-Bin-Tughluq, sat on the throne after him (1351-1388 A.D.). (iv) Firuz Shah Tughluq had established a separate department 'Diwan-i-Bandgan' of slaves. Firuz Shah Tughluq was fond of slaves. Thus, option (d) is the correct answer.
