

large scale. 19th-century agriculture became commercial due to the use of modern agricultural equipment. British rulers forced farmers to grow Indigo and other cash crops which can be used as a raw material for British manufactures. As a result urban population was reduced and domestic Industries were destroyed.

52. Which of the following statements correctly explains the impact of Industrial Revolution on India during the first half of the nineteenth century?

- (a) Indian handicrafts were ruined.
- (b) Machines were introduced in the Indian textile industry in large numbers.
- (c) Railway lines were laid in many parts of the country.
- (d) Heavy duties were imposed on the imports of British manufacturers.

I.A.S. (Pre) 2020

Ans (a)

During the first half of 19th century, British policies turned India into an exporter of raw materials and a consumer of finished products. Also, because of Industrial Revolution in Britain, new machines were invented that were used to make handicraft products that were not only cheap but also of good quality that led to downfall in demand of Indian handicraft products in domestic market too. Already they were unable to sell Indian goods in Britain because of high tariffs. All this led to ruins of Indian handicrafts.

Revolt of 1857

*In December 1856, the British Government decided to replace the old iron made Brown Bess (musket gun) with new and advanced Enfield Rifle. Dum Dum, Ambala and Sialkot were decided the place for the trials of the new Gun. The Rifle required the biting of the upper part of the cartridge by mouth. In January 1857, rumours spread that the cartridge contained fats of cow and pig. Army officers without any investigation dismissed the rumours as fake news. But the soldiers believed this new Rifle is an attempt to destroy their religions by the British. It became the immediate reason for the Revolt of 1857. On 29th March, 1857 soldiers of Barrakpore refused to use the fat-containing cartridges and, Mangal Pandey attacked and killed Sergeant Major's adjutant of his unit at Barrakpore. *Main reason for the Revolt of 1857 was the exploitative policies of Britishers and it was the outflow of all the dissents and grievances of Indians all of a sudden as an explosion in Volcano. *Anglo-Indian historians believed the Soldier's discontentment and the fat-containing cartridges were the main and important reason for the Revolt of 1857. But modern historians proved this as only a reason followed by several other reasons. The fat-containing cartridges were just a spark which started the explosions of the explosives which were accumulated due to political, social, religious and economic discontent of Indians against the exploitative policies of British Rule.

*Revolt of 1857 started on 10th May, 1857 from Meerut, where the 3rd Bengal Light Cavalry regiment refused to touch the new cartridges and openly rebelled against the authorities. They fired on their officers freed their inmates from cells and marched towards Delhi. Major General William Hewitt had 2200 European soldiers but he didn't try to stop this storm. Revolters captured Delhi on 12th May, 1857 AD. Symbol of the 1857 revolt was Lotus and Chapatis (Bread). *Khan Bahadur, from Ruhelkhand, led the Revolt from Bareilly. He was appointed as the Viceroy by Mughal King Bahadur Shah II.

Rani Lakshmi Bai (Manikarnika) was born on 19th November 1835 at Golghar (presently in Varanasi). At the age of 14 Laxmibai was married to Maharaja Gangadhar Rao who died in Gwalior. Rani Laxmi Bai was the widow of last Maratha king Gangadhar Rao. When Gangadhar Rao died without leaving any heir to the throne, Dalhousie by Doctrine of lapse, merged Jhansi to British Empire in 1854. *In June, 1857, the revolt began in Jhansi under the leadership of Rani Laxmi Bai. She died on 18th June, 1858 A.D. fighting General Hugh Henry Rose. On her death, Hugh Rose said, "Among the Indian revolutionaries the women lying here is the only man."

*Revolt in Lucknow began under the leadership of Begam Hazrat Mahal on 30th May, 1857 A.D. She declared her minor son Bijris Qadr as Nawab and took to all affairs of the Lucknow into herself. On 21st March, 1858 A.D., Campbell with the help of Gurkha Regiment regained Lucknow. *On June 5th 1857, Nana Shaheb (Nana Dhondho Pant) was declared Peshwa and the war of independence started in Kanpur. He was helped a lot by Commander-in-Chief Tatya Tope, who was called the Ambassador of Revolt. The original name of Tatya Tope was Ramchandra Pandurang. After being betrayed by a close friend Man Singh, he was captured when he was camping in a forest. From there he was brought to Shivpuri where a Court on 18th April, 1859 sentenced him to be hanged till death.

Kunwar Singh led the revolt from Jagdishpur (currently Bhojpur district), Bihar. He was from Shahabad region of Bihar.

Deewan Maniram Dutt in Assam declared Kandpeshwar Singh the grandson of the last king as the king and started the revolt of 1857 there. But soon after Maniram Dutt was caught and hanged for his promotional activities regarding the revolt.

Thakur Kushal Singh of Auwa defeated the combined army of English and Jodhpur. Maulavi Ahmadullah Shah provided leadership to the revolt from Faizabad (Ayodhya) in 1857 A.D. He was a brutal enemy of Englishmen. He was native to Chinapattan of Madras, but he migrated to Faizabad. He asked all the different religious believers to stand as one against these English foreigners and to wipe them out from India. About him, Britishers said person filled with extraordinary bravery and immovable, strong determination is the best soldier among all revolutionaries. A bounty of Rs. 50,000 was placed on his arrest.

Mirza Ghalib saw the revolt of 1857 A.D. with his own eyes. He was born on 27th December, 1797 AD in Agra and died in Delhi on 15th February, 1869. Shindhiyas of Gwalior helped the Britishers in the suppression of the Revolt. * Minister of Gwalior Sir Dinkar Rao was praised by European historians for his loyalty to English. Minister of Hyderabad Salar Jung was praised in the same way for his loyalty.

*The revolt of 1857 was spread on a huge area and was fully supported by the public. But still, this Revolt was unable to bring whole of India together. This Revolt was unable to influence the southern, western and eastern parts of India. Shindhiya of Gwalior, Holker of Indore, Nizam of Hyderabad, King of Jodhpur, Nawab of Bhopal, Sikh rulers of Patiala, Nabha and Jind and other Sikh Sardar of Punjab, Maharaja of Kashmir and other kings were actively helping the Britishers in suppressing the revolts. To these rulers, Governor-General Canning said, : These rulers acted as barriers against the high and fast-moving wave of seas, in the absence of which we would have washed out from India completely. The Educated Class didn't show any interest in the Revolt of 1857 which was one of the major cause of the failure of this Revolt.

Lord Canning (1856-62 A.D.) was the Governor-General during the revolt of 1857. During the Revolt, he made Allahabad as an emergency headquarter. Lord Canning was the last Governor-General appointed by the Company and was the first Viceroy appointed by the British King. *Under the judicial reforms, Canning through Indian High Court Act, 1861 established High Courts at Bombay, Calcutta and Madras. Under the social reforms Canning passed Hindu Widow Remarriage Act, 1856. The Sepoy Mutiny of 1857 is known as First War of Independence in India and as an Indian Mutiny in England. *Sir Syed Ahmed Khan wrote Asbab-e-Baghawat-e-Hind which was published in 1859 A.D. * R.C Majumdar was appointed by Government of India to write on the Revolt of 1857, but due to differences with the government committee he rejected this proposal, and he published his book "The Sepoy Mutiny and the Revolt of 1857" on his own in 1957. *R.C. Majumdar said, "It is difficult to avoid the conclusion that the so-called First National War of Independence of 1857 is neither First, nor National, nor a war of Independence". *Most important outcome of 1857 was the Queen's Proclamation of 1858. It was declared on 1st November, 1858 in Allahabad by Lord Canning ending the Company Rule and putting the Realm of British India under the direct control of Crown. This declaration included a ban on further British India expansion, no further interference in the religious matters of people, equal protection of law to be available to all. British stopped all further annexation of native states and kings were allowed to adopt. *After the Suppression of 1857 Revolt, 'Peel Commission' was constituted for the reorganization of Indian Army by British Government. The Commission divided the army on the basis of caste, religion, race, community, etc. The number of European soldiers was increased from 45,000 in 1857 A.D. to 65,000 by 1858 A.D. Indian troops were reduced from 2,38,000 to 1,40,000. The ratio of Europeans to Indian soldiers in Bengal was 1:2 whereas in Madras and Bombay it was 1:3. After the Revolt the soldiers were recruited more from Gorkha, Sikh and Punjab province. John Bennet Harsey was the commanding officer of Barrakpore when Revolt of 1857 broke out there.

Viscount Palmerston was the then Prime Minister of England. His tenure as Prime Minister was from 1855 to 1858 and 1859 to 1865.

*The Revolt was poorly organized with no coordination or central leadership. The Mutineers lacked a clear understanding of Colonial Rule, nor did they have a forward-looking programme, a coherent ideology, a political perspective or societal alternatives. The Lack of unity among Indians proved detrimental to this Revolt. Modern Nationalism was not known to them at that time, which led to everyone fighting for their own interests and not for the nation.

Brigadier General John Nicholson died on 23rd September, 1857, trying to recapture Delhi. Sir Henry Montgomery Lawrence, Major General Henry Havelock and Brigadier General Neil died in Lucknow in 1857 revolt protecting British Residency. Sir James Outram and W. Taylor termed the Revolt of 1857 as a result of a conspiracy of Hindu and Muslim. Outram said This was a Muslim conspiracy in which the Hindus concerns were used for the Revolt. It was only a Sepoy Mutiny, according to John Lawrence and Seeley. According to T.R. Holmes, it was a war between Barbarism and Civilization. V. D. Savarkar in his book "The Indian War of Independence 1857", termed this Revolt as an organized struggle for Independence. He said it was the First War of Independence. *The Government Historian on Indian independence movement was Surendra Nath Sen whose book 'Eighteen Fifty-Seven' was published in 1957.

1. When was the new Enfield Rifle with greased cartridges introduced in the British Indian Army?

- (a) November, 1856 (b) December, 1856
- (c) January, 1857 (d) February, 1857

47th B.P.S.C. (Pre) 2005

Ans. (b)

The Company decided to use the new Enfield Rifle instead of old Brown Bess gun in December, 1856 A.D. The training for the use of this rifle was organized in Dum Dum, Ambala, and Sialkot. The rifle required an extraordinary kind of loading of a cartridge in the magazine and hence the soldiers while in the ensuing fight, had to bite off the outer covering of the cartridge while loading it down into the rifle's muzzle. The cartridge was rumoured to have been greased with animal fat (Pig fat and Cow fat). Army Commanders refused rumours without any cross-checking, but the soldiers believed that this was an intentional act of the British to besmirch their religion. This became the immediate cause of the first Independence Struggle of India in 1857 A.D.

2. The immediate cause of India's first war of independence was:
- Doctrines of Lapse by Lord Dalhousie
 - Suspicion about British interference in religion
 - Military discontent

6. Who among the following was bestowed with the title of Saheb-e-Alam Bahadur by Bahadur Shah during the uprising of 1857?

- Azimullah
- Birjis Qadr
- Bakht Khan
- Hasan Khan

U.P. R.O./A.R.O. (Pre) 2016

Ans. (c)

Bakht Khan's superior abilities quickly became evident and the emperor Bahadur Shah Zafar gave him actual authority and title of 'Saheb-e-Alam- Bahadur.

7. What was the main cause of 1857 revolt?
- Public Outrage
 - Military discontent
 - Management of Christian Missionaries
 - Policy of the British Empire

U.P. P.C.S. (Pre) 1990

Ans. (d)

The Indian Rebellion of 1857 had diverse political, economic, military, religious and social causes.

The sepoys, a generic term used for native Indian soldiers of the Bengal Army, had their own list of grievances against the British East India Company administration. The spark that led to the mutiny was the issue of new gunpowder cartridges for Enfield rifle in January 1857 A.D. There was a widespread belief that the cartridges contained cow or pig fat. This insulted both the Hindu and Muslim religious practices. Underlying grievances like taxation and land annexations by East India Company were ignited by the sepoy mutineers, and within weeks dozens of units of Indian army joined the peasant army in widespread rebellion. The old aristocracy, both Muslim and Hindu, who were seeing their power being steadily eroded by the East India Company also rebelled against British rule.

8. Who was the Correspondent of the Newspaper 'Times' published from London in 1857 wrote that "Nobody in the North India looks at white man's car with friendly view"?

- W.H. Russell
- Robert Peel
- Gladstone
- Palmerston

M.P.P.C.S. (Pre.) 2020

Ans (a)

Sir William Howard Russell was the correspondent of the newspaper 'The Times' published from London in 1857 A.D. which wrote that "Nobody in the North India looks at white man's car with friendly view" Russell was an Irish reporter with the Times who was sent to India by The Times to report on the 1857 mutiny.

9. The first war of Independence (1857) started from:

- Lucknow
- Jhansi
- Meerut
- Kanpur

U.P.P.C.S. (Pre) 1994

U.P.P.C.S. (Pre) 1990

Ans. (c)

The first War of Independence was started from Meerut. Sepoys refused to use the new rifle cartridges and revolted openly. They left Meerut and moved to Delhi. Major General William Hewitt did not try to stop this rebellion. Lieutenant General George Dobson Percival Willoughby resisted, but he was defeated. Mughal Emperor Bahadur Shah Zafar was declared Emperor of India. The success of Delhi revolt sensitized many parts of India and revolt spread over to the areas of Oudh, Rohilkhand, Western Bihar, etc.

10. Where from the Revolution of 1857 start first?

- Lucknow

See the explanation of the above question.

11. The first event relating to the war of Independence of 1857 was –

- (a) Kanpur's Revolt and taking over the leadership by Nana Saheb.
- (b) Begum Hazrat Mahal's leadership of Oudh.
- (c) Marching of Sepoys to Delhi's Red Fort.
- (d) Revolt by Rani of Jhansi

U.P.P.C.S. (Mains) 2008

Ans. (c)

Marching of Sepoys to Delhi's Red Fort was the first event relating to the war of Independence of 1857 A.D. Nana Saheb revolted on 5 June, 1857 A.D. in Kanpur. Begum Hazrat Mahal had led rebellions in Oudh on 30th May, 1857. Revolt of Rani of Jhansi, Laxmi Bai, started in June, 1857 A.D. and ended after her Martyrdom on 18 June, 1858.

12. Who were the two great leaders of the 1857 Revolt who escaped to Nepal?

- (a) Nana Saheb and Begum Zeenat Mahal
- (b) Kunwar Singh and Nana Saheb
- (c) Rajkumar Firoz Shah and Begum Hazrat Mahal
- (d) Nana Saheb and Begum Hazrat Mahal

Chhattisgarh P.C.S. (Pre) 2024

Ans. (d)

During the 1857 Revolt, Nana Saheb and Begum Hazrat Mahal played a significant role in opposing British rule. Nana Saheb led the rebellion in Kanpur in 1857 AD, but when the British army recaptured Kanpur, he fled to Nepal in 1859 AD. However, there was no clear information about his whereabouts after that. According to some sources, he died there, while others believe that he lived in disguise. Similarly, Wajid Ali Shah's wife, Begum Hazrat Mahal, declared her minor son, Birjis Qadr, as the ruler of Awadh (Lucknow) and led the 1857 revolt. However, in 1858 AD, when the British recaptured Lucknow, she also fled to Nepal, where she passed away in 1879 AD.

13. Which of the following was not a reason for making the sepoys of the East India Company rebellious?

- (a) The efforts of the officers of the company to spread Christianity
- (b) The order to the sepoys to travel on ships
- (c) The stoppage of Bhatta
- (d) The inefficiency of the officers
- (e) None of the above/More than one of the above

B.P.S.C. (Pre) 2018

Ans. (d)

The inefficiency of the officers was not a cause for the Sepoy Mutiny. The Indian Rebellion of 1857 occurred as a result of an accumulation of factors over time, rather than any single event such as an effort by officers to spread Christianity among the soldiers, which led to interference in the religious matters of the people. The order of the Company to the sepoys to travel on a ship was another reason as in Hinduism it was believed that travelling by sea could deprive them of their religious status of being a Hindu. A more immediate cause of the sepoy's dissatisfaction was the recent order that they would not be given the foreign service allowance (Bhatta/Batta) when serving in Sindh or Punjab along with rumors of the use of animal fat in the cartridges of the New Enfield Rifle.

14. The symbol of 1857 independence struggle was –

- (a) Lotus and Chapatis
- (b) Eagle
- (c) Scarf
- (d) Two sword

M.P.P.C.S. (Pre) 1990

Ans. (a)

The symbol of 1857 Independence struggle was Chapatis (bread) and Lotus. A class of historians considers that this mutiny was a wide and well-planned conspiracy. They mentioned the reach of Chapatis and Lotus in remote villages of North India and prophets, hermits and plays of Madaris to prove that fact.

15. Which one of the following centers of the uprising of 1857 was recaptured by the English?

- (a) Jhansi
- (b) Meerut
- (c) Delhi
- (d) Kanpur

U.P.P.C.S. (Mains) 2015

Ans. (c)

The first expression of organized resistance was the Revolt of 1857. It began as a revolt of the Sepoys of the Company's army but eventually secured the participation of the masses. The Meerut Mutiny marked the beginning of the Revolt of 1857. The Indian sepoys in Meerut murdered their British officers and broke the jail. On May 10, they marched to Delhi. In Delhi, the mutineers were joined by the Delhi sepoys, and the city came under their control. Next day, on 11th May, the sepoys proclaimed Bahadur Shah Zafar as the Emperor of Hindustan. But Bahadur Shah was old, and he could not provide able leadership to the sepoys. The occupation of Delhi was short-lived. In May 1857 A.D. the Battle of Shamli took place between the forces of Hazi Imdadullah and the British. The Sikhs and Pathans of the Punjab and North-West Frontier Province supported the British and helped to recapture Delhi on 20th September, 1857 A.D.

- (a) Nana Sahib (b) Kunwar Singh
(c) Khan Bahadur Khan (d) Tatya Tope

I.A.S. (Pre) 2006

Ans. (d)

Ramachandra Pandurang, known as Tatya Tope, was an able leader of the great uprising of 1857. He was a personal adherent of Nana Saheb of Kanpur. He progressed with the Gwalior contingent after the British reoccupation of Kanpur and forced Lieutenant General Charles Ash Windham to retreat from Kanpur. Later on, he came to the rescue of Rani Lakshmibai. However, he was defeated by General Napier's troops and was executed by the British Government (after he was captured in the forest of Paron due to betrayal of his friend Mansingh) at Shivpuri on 18th April 1859. One of the greatest heroes of the Great Uprising of 1857, Tatya Tope was born in 1814 at Yeola in Maharashtra. He was the only child of Pandurang and his wife, Rukhmabai. Having been brought up in Bithoor, he came into contact with Nana Saheb Peshwa. He was a great admirer of Nana Saheb and was ready to sacrifice his life for him. Tatya Tope was the only person who witnessed the rebellion from the Kanpur revolt until his end on 18th April 1859.

- (a) Bihar (b) Madhya Pradesh
(c) Rajasthan (d) Uttar Pradesh

I.A.S. (Pre) 2005

Ans. (a)

Kunwar Singh was one of the most important freedom fighters in the Sepoy Mutiny of 1857. Kunwar Singh was born in Jagdishpur in Shahabad region of Bihar. He belonged to Arrah in Bihar during the mutiny. When the people of all parts of India rose against British authority in 1857 A.D., Babu Kunwar Singh was nearly eighty years old. At that age, he fought against the English East India Company. Despite his age and failing health, Kunwar Singh plunged into the thick of it and battled against the British forces with grim determination and undaunted courage. In Bihar, Kunwar Singh was the Leader against the British. He assumed command of the soldiers who had revolted at Danapur on 25th July 1857 A.D. Two days later he occupied Arrah, the district headquarters. Major Vincent Eyre relieved the town in August 1857, defeated Kunwar Singh's force and destroyed Jagdishpur. Kunwar Singh left his ancestral village and reached Lucknow in December 1857 A.D. In March 1858 A.D., he occupied Azamgarh. However, he had to leave the place soon. He was pursued by Brigadier Douglas, and he retreated towards his home in Bihar. On 23 April 1858 A.D., Kunwar Singh had a victory near Jagdishpur over the force led by Captain Le Grand, but on 26 April 1858 A.D., he died in his village. The mantle of the old chief now fell on his brother Amar Singh who, despite heavy odds, continued the struggle and for a considerable time ran a parallel government in the then district of Shahabad. In October 1859 Amar Singh joined the rebel leaders in the Nepal Terai.

2. Lord Dalhousie recognized the adopted son of Rani Lakshmibai as her legitimate heir.

Which of the above statements is/are correct?

- (a) Only 2 (b) Neither 1 nor 2
(c) Only 1 (d) Both 1 and 2

U.P. P.C.S. (Pre) 2024

Ans. (c)

In 1857 AD, Kunwar Singh, associated with the contemporary zamindari of Jagdishpur in Bihar, led the rebellion. Thus, Statement 1 is correct.

According to Lord Dalhousie's Doctrine of Lapse, if an Indian ruler died without a biological heir, their kingdom would be annexed by the British East India Company. In 1853 AD, Jhansi's ruler, Raja Gangadhar Rao, died without a biological heir. Rani Lakshmibai adopted Damodar Rao as her son. However, the British refused to recognize the adopted son as the rightful heir and annexed Jhansi under the Doctrine of Lapse in 1854 AD, making it a part of the British Empire.

- (c) Bhonsles of Nagpur
- (d) Lodhis of Ramgarh

M.P.P.C.S. (Pre) 2010

Ans. (a)

Many, like the Scindias of Gwalior, the Nizams of Hyderabad and Holkars of Indore, gave active support to the British during the 1857 revolt. Many educated and westernized Indians also did not support the Revolt of 1857. That time, Lord Canning said, "If Scindia joins the rebels, I will pack off tomorrow." European historians greatly praised Sir Dinkar Rao, the Minister of Gwalior.

55. The educated middle class in India:

- (a) Opposed the revolt of 1857
- (b) Supported the revolt of 1857
- (c) Remained neutral to the revolt of 1857
- (d) Fought against native rulers

I.A.S. (Pre) 1998

Ans. (c)

The educated middle class did not participate in the revolt of 1857, which was one of the major reasons for the failure of the 1857 mutiny. Educated Indians wanted to change India as a progressive state and the fact embedded in their mind was that Britishers would make this progress possible. Later on, they came to know about the cruel strategy of the British behind this.
