Ans. (c)

Ras Bihari Bose was an immigrant Indian living in Japan. On 28-30th March 1942, Bose convened a conference in Tokyo (Japan) to discuss political issues with Indians. Bose decided to establish the Indian Independence League. It was structured during the Bangkok Convention which took place in June, 1942 where Subhash Chandra Bose was invited. During this Conference, Ras Bihari Bose established Indian Independence League.

Partition of Bengal and Swadeshi Movement

*British Government announced the partition of Bengal on 20 July, 1905 A.D. On 7 August 1905 A.D., a historic meeting took place at the town hall of Calcutta and the Swadeshi movement was started. The historic Boycott resolution was passed here. After this anti-partition movements started in various parts of Bengal. *On 16 October 1905 AD, the partition formally came into force and Bengal was divided. The day was observed as the 'Mourning day' in the whole Bengal. On the suggestion of Rabindranath Tagore the day was celebrated as 'Rakhi Diwas' amongst the people of Bengal. *After its partition, the Bengal was divided into East and West Bengal. East Bengal was merged into Assam, and a new province was formed which included Rajshahi, Chatgaon, Dhaka etc. Dhaka was the headquarter of this province. *Its second part included West Bengal, Odisha and Bihar. *Bengal was divided during the tenure of Lord Curzon (1899-1905 A.D.). *Sir Andrew Henderson Leith Fraser was an officer of Indian Civil Services. He served as the lieutenant governor of Bengal from 1903-1908 A.D. He played an important role in the planning of Bengal Partition. *Rabindra Nath Tagore was a critic of Swadeshi Movement and he emphasised on better relation between the East and West cultures. He believed that the West had committed some mistake in understanding the East, this doesn't mean East do the same with the West. *Krishna Kumar Mitra the editor of 'Sanjivani', published a special edition on 13 July 1905 A.D., and for the first time suggested that people should boycott British goods, and mourn against the partition and should break all linkages from British officers and offices. All of this should be done as a protest against the partition of Bengal.

*A public gathering on 16 July 1905 A.D., at district Bagerhat (Division Khulna Bangladesh) supported the suggestion of Krishna Kumar Mitra. *British Government called partition a necessity for the administrative purposes but the real reason was to weaken the growth of nationalism in Bengal. According to then viceroy Lord Curzon, "Partition was an attempt to strengthen the crown rule and to destroy the centre from which Congress Party was working and conspiring against the government all over the country." *Partition of Bengal was the immediate cause of Swadeshi movement. Bal Gangadhar Tilak, Aurobindo Ghosh, Bipin Chandra Pal and Lala Lajpat Rai were the main proposers of this idea. They wanted a country wide Swadeshi movement but the moderates were against this. *The Swadeshi Movement that started in Bengal was led by Tilak throughout the country especially at Bombay and Pune. Ajeet Singh and Lala Lajpat Rai led the movement in Punjab and U.P., Syed Haider Raja led this movement at Delhi and Chidambaram Pillai led the Swadeshi movement in Madras Presidency. *To organise masses for this movement Ashwini Kumar Dutt founded "Swadesh Bandhav Samiti". Women played an active role in this movement. However, farmers and Muslims stayed away from Swadeshi and Boycott movements. Vande Mataram became the title song of Indian National movement during the Swadeshi movement. * British journalist H.W. Nevinson was related to Swadeshi Movement. He travelled for four months across India and he reported for Manchester guardian, Glasgow Herald and Daily Chronicle. Later on, he compiled his reports in a Book titled 'The New Spirit in India'. *In the atmosphere of increasing National Movement Abnindra Nath Tagore and his brother Gaganendranath Tagore founded Indian Society of Oriental Arts in 1907 AD to reconstruct the precious Indian Arts and Culture and to develop new consciousness among the masses.

1. Which of the following occurred last:

U.P.P.C.S. (Pre) 2000

Ans. (b)

In the above-mentioned events, the event of Permanent Settlement of Bengal was introduced by Lord Cornwallis in 1793 A.D. Subsidiary Alliance was a system of the rulers which was introduced by Lord Wellesley in India. The Doctrine of Lapse was an annexation policy purportedly devised by Lord Dalhousie, who was the Governor-General of India from 1848-56 A.D. From the above options, the partition of Bengal was the last event announced in July, 1905 by Lord Curzon.

2. Anti partition movement of Bengal was initiated on:

- (a) 20th July, 1905 (b) 7th August, 1905
(c) 16th October, 1905 (d) 7th November, 1905

U.P.P.C.S. (Pre) 1994

Ans. (b)

On 20 July, 1905 A.D., Curzon issued an order to divide Bengal. One of the main objectives of the partition of Bengal was to divide the unity among the people of Bengal. Lord Curzon divided the territories of Bengal in such a way that the western part formed the Hindu majority area and the eastern part formed the Muslim majority area. The partition of Bengal finally took place on 16th October, 1905 A.D. On 7 August, 1905 A.D., one of the first mass protests was organized in Calcutta's Town Hall, also known as Anti-partition Movement.

- (a) W.C. Banerjee (b) S.N. Bannerjee
(c) R.N. Tagore (d) B. G. Tilak

U.P. Lower Sub. (Pre) 2009

Ans. (c)

Tagore's political acumen exhibited a marked ambivalence. On the one hand, he denounced European imperialism, occasionally voicing full support for Indian nationalist. On the other hand, he also shunned the Swadeshi movement, denouncing it in his acrid September, 1925 A.D. essay "The Cult of the Chakra" (an allusion to elements of Gandhism and the Non-cooperation Movement). In addition, he viewed British control of India as a "Political symptom of our social disease." Urging Indians to accept blind revolution but of steady and purposeful education.

13. Who was the first to suggest the boycott of British goods in Bengal?

- (a) Aurobindo Ghosh
(b) Krishna Kumar Mitra
(c) Motilal Ghosh
(d) Satish Chandra Mukherjee

U.P.P.C.S. (Mains) 2011

U.P. Lower Sub. (Pre) 2004

Ans. (b)

Krishna Kumar Mitra was an Indian freedom fighter, journalist, and leader of Brahmo Samaj. He was an active leader and was against the partition of Bengal. On 13 July, 1905 AD, In his Nationalist Bengali weekly Magazine titled 'Sanjibani' he boldly advocated for the freedom of the press. In his opinion, the manufacturing of British goods should be abolished. He called for a boycott of foreign goods, government officials and organisations by breaking all connections, people should mourn etc. His ideas were supported by a gathering in District Bagerhat (Division-Khulna) on 16 July, 1905 A.D.

14. Boycott of British goods was adopted as a national policy in –

- (a) 1899 (b) 1901
(c) 1903 (d) 1905

U.P.R.O. /A.R.O. (Pre) 2014

15. Who painted the famous image of Bharat Mata to visually associate the identity of India, as a Nation?

- (a) Gagnendranath (b) Abanindranath
(c) Bankim Chandra (d) Rabindranath Tagore
(e) Question not attempted

Rajasthan P.C.S. (Pre) 2024

Ans. (b)

To visually represent India as a nation, Abanindranath Tagore created the famous image of Bharat Mata (Mother India). This painting was made in 1905 A.D. during the Swadeshi Movement against the partition of Bengal. In the painting, Bharat Mata is depicted as a goddess with four hands, wearing a saffron-colored sari. Abanindranath Tagore's portrayal of Bharat Mata became a symbol of nationalism and unity among Indians during the freedom movement.

16. Partition of Bengal was done mainly for :

- (a) To divide the Hindu and Muslims
(b) For administrative convenience
(c) To weaken the growth of Nationalism in Bengal
(d) For the development of Bengal

U.P. Lower Sub. (Pre) 1998

Ans. (c)

"The Partition of Bengal, said Lord Curzon, was a mere readjustment of administrative boundaries." The argument advocated for the partition was that it would improve the administration of the two provinces. The main motive was to strike at the roots of Bengali Nationalism which was growing in solidarity form. At that time Bengal was considered to be "the nerve-centre" of Indian Nationalism. Curzon decided to ruin the new spirit by dividing the politically advanced communities into separate provinces.

17. The following programmes were launched by the nationalist against the partition of Bengal :

- 1. Boycott 2. Swadeshi
3. Non-co-operation 4. National education

Select the correct answer :

- (a) 1, 2 and 3 (b) 2, 3 and 4
(c) 1, 3 and 4 (d) 1, 2 and 4
(e) None of these

Chhattisgarh P.C.S. (Pre) 2014

Ans. (d)

The partition of Bengal in 1905 A.D. led to Swadeshi and Boycott Movement. Swadeshi Movement was complementary to 'Boycott Movement.' With the boycott of foreign goods, the use of 'Swadeshi' or indigenous goods increased. 'Swadeshi' was not altogether a noble idea. The movement spread to all classes and groups of people, including women and children, school and college students. This made the British to reverse the order of partition of Bengal. The boycott and Swadeshi Movements helped in the establishment of Swadeshi industries - textile mills, banks, chemical works and insurance companies. Swadeshi Stores were opened. National education and Indian languages were encouraged.

18. The 'Swadeshi' and Boycott' were adopted as methods of struggle for the first times during the

- (a) agitation against the Partition of Bengal
- (b) Home Rule Movement
- (c) Non-Cooperation Movement
- (d) visit of the Simon Commission to India

I.A.S. (Pre) 2016

Ans. (a)

The Swadeshi and Boycott were adopted as methods of struggle for the first time during the agitation against the partition of Bengal. It was an economic strategy aimed at the British Empire against the partition of Bengal by Lord Curzon on 16 October, 1905 A.D.

19. The swadeshi and Boycott were adopted the methods of struggle for the first time during the?

- (a) Home Rule Movement
- (b) visit of the Simon Commission to India
- (c) Partition of Bengal
- (d) More than one of the above
- (e) None of the above

68th B.P.S.C. (Pre) 2022

Ans. (c)

Swadeshi and Boycott were adopted as the methods of struggle for the first time during the Bengal partition. After the formal proclamation of partition of Bengal on 20 July 1905 AD by Lord Curzon, Swadeshi movement was formally started on 7 August 1905 AD with the passing of the 'Boycott' resolution in a meeting at Calcutta townhall.

20. Which movement was started as a reaction to the Partition of Bengal?

- (a) Both Statement-I and Statement-II are correct and Statement-II is the correct explanation for Statement-I
- (b) Both Statement I and Statement II are correct and Statement-II is not the correct explanation for Statement-I

(c) Statement I is correct but Statement II is incorrect

(d) Statement I is incorrect but Statement-II is correct

I.A.S. (Pre) 2023

Ans. (a)

In India, 7th August is celebrated as National Handloom day every year. It is celebrated in memory of Swadeshi Movement that was launched on 7th August, 1905 A.D. Hence, both Statement-I and Statement-II are correct and Statement-II is the correct explanation for Statement-I.

22. What was the immediate cause for the launch of the Swadeshi Movement?

- (a) The partition of Bengal done by Lord Curzon
- (b) A sentence of 18 months rigorous imprisonment imposed on Lokmanya Tilak
- (c) The arrest and deportation of Lala Lajpat Rai and Ajit Singh; and passing of the Punjab Colonization Bill
- (d) Death sentence pronounced on the Chapekar brothers

I.A.S. (Pre) 2010

Ans. (a)

The Swadeshi movement was the outcome of Bengal partition. This concept was mainly presented by Aurobindo Ghosh, Tilak, Bipin Chandra Pal and Lala Lajpat Rai. They wanted to implement Swadeshi Movement in whole of India, but Moderates were against it.

23. The Swadeshi Movement took place in India during :-

- (d) i and ii

40th B.P.S.C. (Pre) 1995

Ans. (c)

On 20 July, 1905 A.D., Curzon issued an order for partitioning of Bengal. On 7 August, 1905 A.D., one of the first mass protests was organized in Calcutta's Town Hall, which was known as 'Swadeshi Movement'. From this Movement, people started opposing the British office, institute, and boycott foreign goods. A remarkable aspect of the Swadeshi Movement was seen in the active participation of women. To collect the public support, Aswani Kumar Dutt organized the committee which is known as (Swadesh Bandhav Society). Tilak, Lala Lajpat Rai and Aurobindo Ghosh played leading role in the fabrication of the Movement's character. In this Movement, women actively participated but farmers and Muslims were not involved in this Movement. They separated themselves from this Movement. Thus, option (c) is the correct answer.

During Swadeshi Movement, the actual day of partition, October 16, 1905 A.D., was declared a day of mourning throughout Bengal and the hearths in the houses were kept unlit. People tied rakhis on each other wrists as a symbol of brotherhood. In Calcutta, most of the offices were kept closed, and a strike was observed in some jute mills and railway workshops. The streets reverberated with Vande Mataram which became the overnight National Song of Bengal and later, the Theme Song of the National Movement.

32. With reference to the period of extremist nationalist movement in India with its spirit of Swadeshi, which one of the following statements is not correct?

I.A.S. (Pre) 2019

- (a) Liyakat Hussain led the Muslim peasants of Barisal in their agitations
- (b) In 1889, the scheme of national education was formulated by Satish Chandra Mukherjee
- (c) The Bengal National College was founded in 1906 with Aurobindo as the Principal
- (d) Tagore preached the cult of Atmasakti, the main plank of which was social and economic regeneration of the villages

I.A.S. (Pre) 2002

Ans. (a)

Statement (a) is not correct. Liyakat Hussain did not lead the Muslim peasants of Barisal in their agitation. It was led by Ashwani Kumar Dutta.

33. Which of the statements is not correct regarding 'Swadeshi Movement'?

- (a) Some specific Muslims were joined in it.
- (b) Women's actively participated in this movement
- (c) Neither this movement affected Bengal farmers and nor did they join
- (d) It was limited to Bengal.

U.P. Lower Sub. (Pre) 2002

Ans. (d)

The Swadeshi Movement influenced only some specific Muslims of society. For the first time, women took part in any movement actively. They came outside their houses, demonstrated in rallies and sat to protest. But this movement did not influence the farmers of Bengal. Barisal was an exception to it. This movement affected only high and middle-class people of the society. Swadeshi Movement was not only limited to Bengal but also leaders like Lala Lajpat Rai, Tilak and Aurobindo Ghosh actively participated and they started to spread it all over the country. In this way, option (d) is incorrect.

34. With reference to Swadeshi Movement, consider the following statements :

1. It contributed to the revival of the indigenous artisan crafts and industries.

Which of the statements given above is/are correct?

- (a) 1 only
- (b) 2 only
- (c) Both 1 and 2
- (d) Neither 1 nor 2

Ans. (c)

Swadeshi Movement was complementary to 'Boycott' movement. With the boycott of foreign goods, the use of 'Swadeshi' or indigenous goods increased. The Swadeshi and Boycott Movement contributed a lot to the revival of the 'indigenous artisan crafts and industries. It promoted the establishment of Swadeshi industries - Textile mills, banks, chemical works and insurance companies, Swadeshi stores were opened. National education and Indian languages were encouraged. The National Council of Education was established as a part of Swadeshi Movement.
