Ans. (c)

Statement (A) is correct but (R) is wrong as the League refused to accept the Muslims related to Congress because they pretended like the only institution which represents the Muslims in India. Hence (A) is correct, but (R), that only the Muslim League has the right is incorrect.

9. With reference to the Indian freedom struggle, which one of the following statements is not correct?

- (a) Hakim Ajmal Khan was one of the leaders to start a nationalist and militant Ahrar movement
- (b) When the Indian National Congress was formed, Sayyed Ahmad Khan opposed it
- (c) The All-India Muslim League which was formed in 1906 vehemently opposed the partition of Bengal and separate electorates
- (d) Maulana Barkat Ullah and Maulana Obeidullah Sindhi were among those who formed a Provisional Government of India in Kabul.

Morley-Minto Reforms

*In 1905, Lord Curzon was replaced by Lord Minto as Viceroy of India and John Morley was secretary of state for India then. Morley-Minto Reforms are related to the reforms initiated by these two. These constitutional reforms were passed by British Government and officially they were called Indian Council Act, 1909. It is generally known as Morley-Minto Reforms. The biggest blunder of this reform was the separate electorate given to Muslim community under the Communal representation system. According to this system, the Muslim candidates into the council were not elected by general Electoral but were elected by the Muslim voters only. This system accepted Muslims as a separate community in India. This created many fundamental issues in India. The unity of India was attacked and demolished in just a stroke. Gandhiji said - "Morley Minto reform has destroyed us completely".
