

Gandhi and His Early Movements

Mohandas Karam Chand Gandhi was born on 2nd October, 1869 AD at Porbandar, Gujarat. Gandhiji's education started in a Pathshala in Porbandar but at the age of seven he moved to Rajkot due to his father's transfer and he studied in Rajkot till high school. Mahatma Gandhi was married to Kasturba Gandhi at the age of 13. He took training as Barrister from 'Inner Temple', London. Karamchand Gandhi was Diwan of Porbandar, Wankaner and Rajkot. He is also known as 'Kaba Gandhi'.

*Gandhi, in 1894 A.D., founded Natal Indian Congress in South Africa. *He along with his colleagues established Tolstoy Farm and started living there. *He started a newspaper there named Indian Opinion (Published in English, Gujarati, Hindi and Tamil). *He established an Ashram at Phoenix (Durban, South Africa) in 1904 A.D. It was reopened on 27th February, 2000 A.D. Phoenix Ashram was the first Ashram established by Gandhiji. *In his thoughts Gandhiji emphasized more on practical idealism than idealism. Like Marx he also believed in the removal of State and had no problem on being called as Philosophical Anarchist. Truth and Non-Violence were the two principles of Ram Rajya of Gandhiji. He made these two as the base of Modern society of his dreams. He was a true socialist. He took care of both private and social interests. He wanted to bring functionality to the noble ideals of Social Justice. Gandhiji himself said to Louis Fischer, "I am a true socialist and the aim of my socialism is progress of all". Socialism of Gandhiji has some glimpses of Marxism. Gandhiji gave extraordinary importance to labours. *He wanted to bring into action the principle that everyone is given work according to their capacity and everyone to be paid remuneration according to their needs. *Gandhiji said, "I am trying to solve that problem which is being faced by scientific socialism". Gandhiji is called an Individualist and Marxist among the socialists. *Strike was the last option in the Satyagraha strategy whereas fasting was his first weapon. According to Gandhiji Satyagraha was 'Agni-Baan'. The objective of Satyagraha of Gandhiji was to change the heart of enemy according to the demand of protestor instead of defeating the enemy. This was to be done by the suffering that Satyagrahi took upon himself. Gandhiji termed self-control as the best solution for Family Planning. *Mahatma Gandhi used to say that "means and ends are two sides of a coin. They cannot be separated. Immoral means cannot be used to achieve moral ends. If used, they will vitiate the end itself. Wrong means never take us to right ends". Mahatma Gandhi was convinced that if we take care of our means, the end will be taken care of itself.

*In 1893, at the age of 24, Gandhiji went to Durban (South Africa) to fight a case of Gujarati trader Dada Abdullah. He stayed in Africa for 21 years and returned to India in 1915

A.D. Public welcomed him with enthusiasm, his struggle and victories in South Africa made him popular here too. *After coming to India, he met Gopal Krishna Gokhale. He was his political mentor. Gandhiji, for the first time, participated in a Congress session at Calcutta in 1901 A.D. In this session resolution of Gandhiji on Africa was passed. This session was chaired by Dinsha Wacha. During his stay in South Africa, Gandhiji came to India in 1901 A.D. and established his office of law at Bombay in 1902 A.D. Gandhiji, in 1915 A.D., established Satyagraha Ashram at Ahmedabad. The Ashram was moved to the banks of Sabarmati River on 17th June, 1917 A.D. considering various economic activities. *Gandhiji believed active politics as an important tool for social upliftment and public welfare. In this context the decentralization of power was the most important suggestion of Gandhiji. With the decentralization of power Gandhiji meant the power to Gram Panchayats to manage and administer their villages. The political system shown by Gandhiji was the inclusion of Morality, Religion and Humanity but the complete ideal political system of Gandhiji had no place for State power. He wanted the establishment of stateless society. Gandhiji named the ongoing struggle in Africa as passive resistance, but later on, it was replaced by Satyagraha. It was widely used in India's struggle for Independence. But both the terms were not the same for Gandhiji. According to him, passive resistance is a political weapon whereas Satyagraha is moral power. *During India's freedom struggle, Gandhiji, in 1917 A.D., started Champaran Satyagraha at Bihar. This was his first successful Satyagraha in India. *Gandhiji linked the boycott of foreign clothes with Nation's Respect. Boycott of foreign clothes by Gandhiji's Movement was effective as India was believed as a market for foreign manufactured goods. With Gandhiji's formula of Boycott of foreign goods the production and sale of Indian goods were promoted. *Gandhiji read the book 'Unto This Last' written by John Ruskin during his stay in Africa. Gandhiji wrote in his biography that this book changed his life. According to Gandhiji, the Message of this book was - "The good of the individual is contained in the good of all". On this basis, Gandhiji rendered his ideology of the welfare of all. Among the Secular writers 'Thoreau, Ruskin and Tolstoy' highly influenced the Gandhian ideology. From 'Thoreau' he learnt civil disobedience and benefits of Tax Ban. Ruskin taught him to respect the physical labour. Gandhiji was highly influenced by the statement of Tolstoy- "Reign of God is within you" and this became the base of his non-violence and non-cooperation.

*Gandhiji worked very hard for the improvement in the conditions of untouchables in India. Gandhiji said, "Service of Harijan is the breath of my life without which I won't survive a minute". Champaran and Kheda were Farmers' Movement. Champaran movement in Bihar was the first Satyagraha of Gandhiji in India. In the beginning of 19th century white owners of plantations made an agreement with the farmer to cultivate Indigo on 3/20th part of their land. This was called as Teen Kathiya System. Plantation owner increased tax rates and other illegal taxes so as to exploit farmers and make it impossible to get out of the contract. Against this exploitation of the farmers Gandhiji started Champaran Satyagraha. To investigate the matter, the Government constituted a committee and Gandhiji was also one of the members. Plantation workers agreed to return the 25% of illegally collected money. In this way the first Satyagraha of Gandhiji was successful. Pt. Rajkumar Shukla persuaded Gandhiji to look into the matters of the exploitation of farmers in Champaran. The people that accompanied Gandhiji to Champaran for investigation included - Acharya J.B. Kriplani, Dr. Rajendra Prasad, Mahadev Desai, C.F. Andrews, Dr. Anugrah Narayan Sinha, Braj Kishor Prasad, etc. N.G. Ranga opposed Gandhiji's support to Champaran movement, whereas Rabindranath Tagore gave him the title of 'Mahatma' during this movement. *After Champaran Movement, the next experiment of Gandhiji was the dispute between cotton mill owners and labours of Ahmedabad on the issue of plague bonus. Gandhiji convinced workers and owners to hand over this issue to a tribunal. To encourage and motivate the labourers, he himself sat on fasting. This protest showed some result and the owners handed over all these matters to the tribunal. Later on tribunal pronounced a 35% compensation. *In 1918 A.D., at Kheda, after the failure of crops. The Government didn't give any concession in revenue, nor did they stopped the collection of land revenue. On this matter, Gandhiji constituted a Satyagraha in favour of farmers. *Subhash Chandra Bose, for the first time called Gandhiji as the Father of Nation. In July, 1944, speaking on Azad Hind radio, Subhash Chandra Bose addressed Gandhiji and said, "The final battle for Indian Independence had started. Father of Nation we need your blessings and good wishes on this expedition." Pyarelal Nayyar was the secretary of Gandhiji During Noakhali incidence. His sister Sushila Nayyar was the personal Doctor of Gandhiji. Pyarelal played an important role in Gandhiji's Dandi March. Jamnalal Bajaj (Cloth trader, Banker, Congress Social Worker) was a close associate of Mahatma Gandhi. Jamnalal Bajaj was born at Sikar District (Rajasthan). He was adopted by a rich businessman of Wardha. He got in touch with Gandhiji in 1915 A.D. and remained his follower for life. He took part in the Indian National Congress at the age of 30. He renounced the title of Rai Bahadur protesting the policies of British towards India. He was treasurer of Congress and founder of Gandhi Seva Sangh. He took a deep interest in village industry and handloom clothes. He was jailed in 1923 A.D. for taking part in Nagpur Flag Satyagraha and again in 1930 A.D. during Civil Disobedience Movement.

Charles Andrews (Dinbandhu Andrews) was a professor of Saint Stephens College, Delhi. He was deeply attached with Indians and wanted to be an Indian in all forms. He had strong relations with Rabindranath Tagore, Gopal Krishna Gokhale and Mahatma Gandhi. *He stayed too at Phoenix Ashram with Gandhiji. Gandhiji, after seeing him completely devoted towards upliftments of poor, gave him the title of Dinbandhu. *Andrews was the president of All India Trade Union Congress in 1925 A.D. and 1927 A.D. He accompanied Gandhiji when he went to London to take part in Round Table Conference. *Gandhiji was not a member of Congress during India's Independence. In the year 1934 A.D., he resigned from Congress. Afterwards, he never became a member of Congress officially but his ideologies played a very significant role in the then political scenario.

*In 1903, Gandhiji founded a law firm in Johannesburg and stayed there till 1910. Gandhiji applied the principles of Trusteeship in his law firm. Gandhiji believed that the economy of each country should be determined after keeping into consideration the climate, land, nature of residents of that country. This economics is totally opposed to exploitation, whether done by one group to the other group of a country or exploitation of a country by another country. Gandhiji wanted to establish such a system in which a person with his fundamental efforts in a free environment can choose to work and perform labour. For this, he wanted the revival of Indian goods industries so that there is enough food to feed all and no one suffers from hunger. Gandhiji emphasized on the importance of cottage industries like - making jaggery, thrashing grass, extracting oil, paper making, leather works etc. with this Gandhiji believed that the poor and exploited will have Social and Economic improvement. On 30th January, 1948, Nathuram Godse shot Gandhiji. On his death, Nehruji said, "The Light of our life is gone, we are now surrounded by darkness from all sides. I am unable to figure out what to say and how to say. Father of Nation, whom we said Babu lovingly is no more."

6. M.K. Gandhi was a supporter of –

- (a) Marxist socialism (b) Category socialism
(c) Idealism (d) Philosophical anarchism

U.P. Lower Sub. (Pre) 2009

Ans. (d)

In Gandhiji's thought the emphasis is not on idealism, but on practical idealism, Gandhi's thought has also been linked to Utopian socialism and Philosophical Anarchism and can be compared with strands of Marxist (though not a western philosophy) and even western liberal thought. He believed that in the concept of ideal non-violent state, every citizen would have the feeling of self-governance and in this stage, there would be no need for the state to comply with the law of the land.

7. The twin principles of Mahatma Gandhi's Ram Rajya were?

- (a) Abolishment of untouchability and temperance
(b) Truth and non-violence
(c) Khadi and Spinning-wheel

(d) Right means and right ends

U.P.P.C.S. (Pre) 1993

Ans. (b)

Truth and non-violence are twin principles of Mahatma Gandhi's Ram Rajya. He used truth and non-violence as the base to develop a new society of his dreams. Some people believe that the policy of truth of Mahatma Gandhi is inspired by Hindu religion and non-violence from Buddha, Jain, and Christian ideology.

8. According to Gandhiji Non-Violence is:

According to Gandhi's philosophy 'Truth' stands for 'reality.' He described Truth as existence, consciousness and Bliss. He said 'Ahimsa' or 'Non-violence' is the means; Truth is the end. They are so intertwined that it is impossible to separate them.

9. Which of the following may be true regarding Gandhi?

- (a) A Marxist without Marxism
(b) A Socialist without Socialism
(c) An Individualist without Individualism
(d) An Individualist among Socialists and a Marxist among Socialists

U.P. Lower Sub. (Mains) 2013

Ans. (d)

Gandhi's thought has been linked to philosophical anarchism and can be compared with strands of Marxist thought. But during present circumstances, he was not in the favour to abolish the state. Human being are not capable enough to manage their collective affairs on their own. Hence, State and law are required in the society. In addition to this, he also believed that the jurisdiction of the State should be minimum. Gandhi told Louis Fischer "I am a true socialist. The meaning of my socialism is Sarvodaya." There is a great similarity between Gandhi and Marx, the final aim of both of them was to establish a stateless and classless society, but their means of achieving this aim were different. For Gandhi, it was through non-violence, but for Marx, it was through violent means.

10. Which one of the following was the last step in the Gandhian strategy of Satyagraha?

- (a) Boycott (b) Picket
(c) Fast (d) Strike

U.P. Lower Sub. (Mains) 2013

The strike was the last step in Gandhian strategy of Satyagraha while fasting was the first step in Gandhian strategy of Satyagraha. He termed fasting as 'Fire Arrow.'

11. Which of the following statements is not true as per Gandhian Principle?

- (a) The aim of Satyagrahi is to defeat the enemy
- (b) The weapon of Satyagraha is Ahimsa
- (c) Satyagrahi should be firm in his belief
- (d) Satyagrahi should have no ill feeling towards his enemies.

U.P. Lower Sub. (Mains) 2013

Ans. (a)

Gandhi's Satyagraha means non-violence, as a force greater than violence. Suffering was its driving force, once let the oppressors use as much force as they can on the non-violent protesters until a stage comes when they can incur no more violence. Hence there is no motive to defeat the enemy but to change their perception.

12. According to Gandhiji, the Cruellest form of violence is

- (a) Persistence of poverty
- (b) Killing of cows

Ans. (a)

In January, 1915 A.D. Mahatma Gandhi returned from South Africa and people warmly welcomed him. The struggles and successes in South Africa made him very popular in India. In India, he came in contact with Gopal Krishna Gokhale and accepted him as his political mentor. He linked himself to India's active politics under the influence of Gopal Krishna Gokhale.

16. In which of the following railway stations in South Africa, Mahatma Gandhi was thrown out of the train?

- (a) Johannesburg
- (b) Pietermaritzburg
- (c) Durban
- (d) Pretoria

U.P.P.C.S. (Mains) 2015

Ans. (b)

Gandhi arrived in Durban, South Africa in 1893 to serve as legal counsel to the businessman Dada Abdullah. In June, he was asked by Dada Abdullah to undertake a trip to Pretoria in the Transvaal, a journey which first took Gandhi to Pietermaritzburg. There Gandhi was seated in the first-class compartment since he had purchased a first-class ticket. A European who entered the compartment hastened to summon railway officials, who ordered Gandhi to shift himself to the van compartment since 'coolies' and non-whites were apparently not permitted in first-class compartments. Gandhi protested and produced his ticket, but was warned that he would be forcibly removed if he did not make a gracious exit. As Gandhi refused to comply with the order, he was summarily pushed out of the train, and his luggage was tossed out on to the platform.

Assertion (A): The struggles in South Africa prepared Gandhiji to lead the National Movement.

Reason (R): Seeing the militancy of Indians in South Africa, Gandhiji was convinced that the Indian people would be ready for militant struggle and sacrifice for a cause.

Select the correct answer using the code given below:

Code -

- (a) Both (A) and (R) are correct and (R) is correct explanation of (A).
(b) Both (A) and (R) are correct but (R) is not the correct explanation of (A).
(c) (A) is correct but (R) is incorrect.
(d) (A) is incorrect but (R) is correct.

U.P. R.O./A.R.O. (Pre) 2023

Ans. (c)

It was in South Africa that Gandhiji discovered himself. He emerged from shy and timid youth as a successful organiser and leader. It was only after the struggles of South Africa that he prepared himself for the leadership of Indian national movement.

Militancy is generally associated with violent methods of struggle. But Gandhiji's struggle in South Africa was completely non-violent and based on Satyagraha. Hence Reason (R) cannot be considered right.

23. Who among the following was the 'Political Guru' of Mahatma Gandhi?

- (a) C.R. Das (b) Dadabhai Nauroji
(c) Tilak (d) G. K. Gokhale

U.P. P.C.S. (Pre) 1991

Ans. (d)

Gopal Krishna Gokhale was one of the early social and political leaders during the Indian Independence Movement against the British Empire in India. Gokhale was famously a mentor of Mahatma Gandhi in his formative years. In 1912, Gokhale visited South Africa at Gandhi's invitation. As a young barrister, Gandhi returned from his struggles against the Empire in South Africa and received personal guidance from Gokhale, including knowledge and understanding of India and the issues confronting common Indians. By 1920, Gandhi emerged as the leader of the Indian Independence Movement. In his autobiography, Gandhi calls Gokhale as his mentor and guide.

24. As per Mahatma Gandhi politics meant –

- (a) Religionless politics
(b) Activity for public welfare
(c) Truthless politics
(d) None of the above

U.P. Lower Sub. (Mains) 2013

66th B.P.S.C. (Pre) 2020

Ans. (a)

Champaran Satyagrah of 1917 A.D. was the first Civil Disobedience Movement led by Gandhiji in India.

In 1917 A.D., in the Champaran of Bihar, farmers were protesting against having to grow indigo with barely any payment for it from British.

On the invitation of Raj Kumar Shukla, Gandhiji went there and started non-violent protest against this, which eventually led to acceptance of the demands of farmers. This was the first victory of Satyagraha in India.

31. During the Champaran Satyagraha, the cultivation of Indigo was known as _____.

- (a) Tinkathia system
(b) Ryotwari system
(c) Slash and burn agriculture
(d) Neelkari

M.P.P.C.S. (Pre) 2022

Ans. (a)

During the Champaran Satyagrah, the cultivation of Indigo was known as Tinkathia system. Tinkathia was the most prevalent system in Champaran. According to it, the factory owners convinced the tenant to grow indigo in a specific area of his holding for which a fixed price was paid. In this, the ryot was under an obligation to cultivate three kathas per beegha of his land with indigo i.e. 3/20th of his land holding.

- (a) By their temple entry
(b) By providing grant-in-aid
(c) By earmarking funds for their socio-economic development
(d) By establishing cottage industry for them

U.P. Lower Sub. (Mains) 2013

Ans. (d)

Gandhi's socio-economic policy opposes all forms of exploitation. India lives in its villages. Naturally, the development of the country depends on the development of villages. That is why Gandhi stressed on the growth of rural industries such as khadi, handlooms, sericulture, handicrafts, etc. Rural industries are based on family labour and require less amount of capital. Raw materials are available in local and surrounding areas and the goods thus produced are sold in local markets. Therefore, there is no problem with production and market. Gandhi has strongly advocated the development of cottage industries in villages, which would reduce the burden on agriculture. Cottage industry can also work as a good support system for villagers. Thus, all villagers can get employment in their respective villages, which will check the migration to urban areas. According to Gandhi, socio-economic improvement of untouchables can be brought about by establishing cottage industry for them.
