Simon Commission (1927)

*The Government of India Act, 1919 had a provision that a commission would be appointed after ten years to study the progress of the government scheme and suggest new steps.

*An all White seven-membered Indian Statutory Commission popularly known as the Simon Commission was set up by the British Government under Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin in November, 1927 A.D. The Commission was to recommend to the British Government whether India was ready for further constitutional reforms.

*This commission was chaired by Sir John Simon and had 7 Members. Since none of its members was Indian, it was opposed and boycotted by the Indians and this commission was termed as 'White commission' by Indians. The commission arrived in Bombay on 3rd February, 1928 A.D. Chairman of this commission Sir John Simon was a member of Liberal Party whereas Clement Attlee who was the Prime Minister of England during India's Independence was also a member of this Commission from Labour Party. *Indian National Congress in its December 1927 A.D. session held at Madras decided to oppose Simon Commission. *On 3rd February 1928 A.D., Simon Commission arrived in India and the countrywide strikes followed. The places approached by Commission witnessed complete strikes and slogan "Simon ! Go Back" was used as a protest in several rallies. Lala Lajpat Rai who was leading a rally in the protest of Simon Commission was severely injured in a Lathi charge by Police and he succumbed to his injuries. *Lala Lajpat Rai was a major political leader of Punjab who led the freedom struggle against the British Rule. He is also known as 'Punjab Kesari'.

Nehru Report (1928 A.D.) which had a provision of dominion status to India was prepared as an answer to the Simon Commission. It was prepared by an all-party committee headed by Motilal Nehru in which Jawahar Lal Nehru was the secretary. This Committee had nine members including two Muslim Members. In this report, Dominion Status for India was demanded instead of complete freedom. *United constituencies at places reserved for minorities were suggested instead of separate electorate. This report also suggested the fundamental rights should be granted to Indians such as freedom of speech, assemblies, freedom to publish a newspaper, freedom to form associations, etc.

*In 1928 A.D., Subhash Chandra Bose and Jawahar Lal Nehru founded Independence for India League to demand Complete Independence instead of Dominion Status.

U.P.P.C.S. (Mains) 2005

Ans. (d)

Montagu-Chelmsford reform (Government of India act, 1919) provided for a Constitutional Commission to review its working and operations. The Government of India Act, 1919 was passed on the basis of recommendations of Lord Chelmsford and Samuel Montagu to introduce self-governing institutions gradually to India. For this purpose, Simon Commission was appointed in November, 1927 AD by the British Conservative Government under Stanley Baldwin to report on the working of the Indian Constitution established by the Government of India Act of 1919. The Commission consisted of seven members under the chairmanship of Sir John Simon. None of the members of this Commission was Indian thus Indian leaders opposed the Commission saying it 'White Commission.' Simon Commission advocated reconstitution of Central legislature with a federal character instead of a unitary character and its members should be elected from provincial legislature indirectly. Simon Commission reached Bombay on February 3, 1928 A.D. on that day Countrywide strike was held.

10. With reference to Simon Commission's recommendations, which one of the following statements is correct?

- (a) It recommended the replacement of diarchy with responsible Government in the provinces.
- (b) It proposed the setting up of inter-provincial council under the Home Department
- (c) It suggested the abolition of bicameral legislature at the centre
- (d) It recommended the creation of Indian Police Service with a provision for increased pay and allowances for British recruits as compared to Indian recruits

Ans. (a)

The Government of India Act 1919 had introduced the system of diarchy to govern the provinces of British India. This Act had a provision that a Commission would be appointed after 10 years to investigate the progress of the Governance scheme and suggest new steps for reform. The other statements in context to Simon Commission are incorrect.

Ans. (a)

In 1927, the British Government in England decided to send a commission headed by Sir John Simon to decide India's political future. The commission had no Indian representative. This decision created an outrage in India. Indian National Congress in its Madras session of December, 1927 A.D. decided to boycott the Commission. When the Commission arrived, it met with demonstrations with banners saying "Simon ! Go Back." In 1928 A.D., when the Simon Commission visited Lahore, Lala Lajpat Rai led a non-violent protest against it. The police struck back with lethal force, carrying out a lathi charge. Lala Lajpat Rai suffered severe injuries in the police assault and eventually died in November, 1928.

| (a) M.L. Nehru | (b) J. L. Nehru |
| (c) R.K. Nehru | (d) B. L. Nehru |

Uttarakhand U.D.A./L.D.A. (Pre) 2007

Ans. (a)

Nehru Report (1928 A.D.) which demanded dominion status for India was prepared in response to the Simon Commission (1927 A.D.). Motilal Nehru was the Chairman of All-Party Committee preparing this report. Jawaharlal Nehru was the Secretary of this Committee. Two Muslims, including 9 other people were the members of this Committee.

16. Who among the following had demanded first the dominion status for India?

- (a) Rajagopalachari and Sardar Patel
- (b) Pt. Motilal Nehru and Govind Ballabh Pant
- (c) Sir Tej Bahadur Sapru and Jaykar
- (d) Jawaharlal Nehru and Jagjeevanram

U.P.P.C.S. (Pre) 2013

Ans. (c)

Pt. Motilal Nehru in March, 1926 A.D. demanded to call a representative conference to form a Constitution for Dominion status of India. However, the name of Govind Ballabh Pant has been mentioned with his (Pt. Motilal Nehru) name in the given option who was not related to it. Thus option (c) will be the correct answer because Tej Bahadur Sapru and Jaykar was the members of the Committee to prepare 'Nehru Report.'

17. With reference to the period of Indian freedom struggle, which of the following was/were recommended by the 'Nehru Report'?

1. Complete Independence of India.
2. Joint electorates for reservation of seats for minorities.
3. Provision of fundamental rights for the people of India in the Constitution.

Select the correct answer using the codes given below?

- (a) 1 only (b) 2 and 3
(c) 1 and 3 (d) 1, 2 and 3

I.A.S. (Pre) 2011

Ans. (b)

The Nehru report (1928 A.D.) recommended for the Dominion status of India in place of Complete Independence. It did not provide for separate electorates for any community or weightage for minorities. As regards the communal problem, the report recommended joint electorates with reservation of seats for minorities. The report also defined the provision of Fundamental Rights including the right to give a speech, organize meetings and make Organization. Thus, statement (1) is incorrect while the statement (2) and (3) are correct.
